SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER

"Moth" by Cath Bloomfield

Welcome to our September Newsletter!

At Art Gallery SW, we aim to showcase some of the best art in the South West. We believe we are a unique gallery, because customers on our site are given the choice of either buying online or direct from the artist.

In the New Year, we have plans to organise pop up galleries in all areas of the South West. Details will be finalised in January 2019.

This month, Devon Open Studios (from September 8th to 23rd) and Somerset Open Studios (from September 15 to the 30th) are taking place. Many of our artists will be showcasing work at these special events.

The links to these Open Studio programmes can be found in the Arts Events section of our newsletter.

Importance of Art to Business

Have you ever thought about buying artwork for your business? Art can serve to benefit a business on many levels, specifically to the workforce and clients.

Art has an intrinsic value, enabling us to process life on the deepest level. It can enhance our well-being and health, whilst increasing productivity. Numerous studies have shown that art can help us remain calm, reduce stress and refresh us on a daily basis.

"Cottages Clovelly" by Shirley Kirkcaldy

In day-to-day business, we generally use logic, analysis, creativity and innovation to solve problems. Logic, analysis and particularly creativity and innovation are all stimulated by art. Many extremely successful businesses have one thing in common. They have used creativity and innovation to make changes to their business and business model; changes which have proved vital to their success.

At Art Gallery SW, we showcase art from a wide selection of artists, who live and create in the South West. You're sure to find artwork that can enhance your business. All at a price you can afford.
